Upcoming Blackout Dates

If you can't work at least a 4 hour shift on these days, a vacation request form is required TWO WEEKS prior to the dates you will need off.

- DEC 2-4 TEMPE ARTS FESTIVAL WEEKEND
- DEC 31 NEW YEAR'S EVE

What IS an STO Account?

We have several STO accounts that we do security for on a weekly basis. STO stands for Standing Temporary Order. Some of our STO accounts include the Brickyard on Mill Ave, Camelback Ranch, Civic Space Park, and FYE in Tempe.

We hold our STO guards to the highest level of professionalism, conduct, and behavior. We look for guards that prove to be dependable, timely, and trustworthy.

If you accept two STO shifts per week, you become eligible for a raise. There is paperwork you must sign in order to get this raise, and there are two classes required before signing the paperwork. The two most fundamental classes that we have are report writing and radio class. At all of our accounts, a patrol log is required to be written, so it's important to know how to correctly write reports. And at some of our accounts, you will have a partner which you will communicate with via radio. You must work the account for a few weeks in order to show your timeliness and ability to the job.

The STO accounts are a building block for those guards that have the desire to become supervisors, patrol drivers, and even armed guards. Patrol drivers check on all of the STO accounts, so it's important for them to know what is expected at each one. It's a chance to show us your abilities and let them shine. Most of the time, you are by yourself at these accounts, which means everything you do stands out.

In addition to the classes that are required, you may be asked to take other training classes along the way. And even if you aren't asked to take them, it's always a good idea to get more training. The more you learn, the better your arsenal of tools to use as you are doing your job. The Advanced Training and the T.A.T.T. classes are great. There is also a Situational Awareness class that teaches you to be aware of your surroundings and keeping yourself safe.

If you are interested in getting some regular hours at an STO account, please let us know so we can make sure you get through the required classes and get the training that you need.

Help the Community

Continuing the good will from Thanksgiving, why not give back to those less fortunate for Christmas? We all get so caught up in getting our families and friends presents (a lot of them don't even need gifts, but we feel like we have to get them something anyways) when there are so many people out there with a lot less than what we all have. I think a great gift you can get people is to show them that you donated to a charity in their name. Especially those that have a ton and you don't really know of anything they need. If you are short on money, like a lot of us in this economy are, you can always volunteer your TIME. Here is a list of places that need help for the holidays. I know I am looking to find a place to volunteer. There's another great site, meetup.com, where you can find other opportunities. Here's a link to the volunteer opportunities.

FAQ

Q: I called the office on Saturday morning to let them know that I wasn't going to be at my shift that afternoon. Then they called when my shift was supposed to start and asked why I wasn't there. What gives?

A: Well, being that Kali doesn't work every single day of her life...she's not there to get the message on the weekend. Call the pager as instructed in orientation. And also - your call off is not approved until someone calls you back. If you do not get a call back...call again until you do!
