Read Past Issues

Just recently, we launched our new web site. No sooner did it launch, that Ashleigh got the email below. We want to share it with all of you, because even though it made all of us very proud, we all know that it is all of you who this email was meant for. I want to thank you for your hard work, professionalism, dedication, integrity and for paying attention to your training and for making all of us so very proud! Thank you!

Mick Hirko
President

Dear TEAM,

I recently went to the Lady Antebellum concert at AK Chin Pavilion where you were doing the security. I want to tell you how positively impressed I was with the behavior of your people. It was really refreshing. While paying close attention to their work and doing a very conscientious job, they were also actually friendly and human, so they actually added positively to the atmosphere of the event.

This was in such stark contrast to my experiences around most TSA employees who are now starting to show up in more places and events, and who seem trained specially to abuse the people they are "protecting" in every imaginable way possible. And this includes extensive physical abuse and violence simply designed to subjugate people, not in any way to keep them safe.

Thank you so much for demonstrating at a real life event that security work can be done right, with a positive spirit, respect for the people being protected, and in a way that adds a sense of both safety and friendliness to an event. It reminds me of long ago when this is how virtually all police behaved. You are bringing back the memory of a much nicer time. I hope this is how you are handling all your events.

Richard Sacks

Military Corner

Spotlight: Jacob Ellis

1. When did you join the military?

I graduated boot camp at MCRD San Diego on January 4th 2013

2. Why did you join the military?

I joined because I wanted the life changing experience. It also made sense to do it before college to gain the discipline needed to stay on track in school.

3. What branch did you serve or are currently serving in?

Marine Corps

4. How long were you or have you been in?

Since January 4th 2013

5. What was/is your job?

1391 Bulk Fuel Specialist. "Bulk fuel specialists install, operate, maintain and repair fuel handling units and accessory equipment, and test petroleum products to evaluate the quality used in amphibious assault fuel handling systems."

6. Where were/are you stationed?

I'm currently stationed at Luke Air Force Base west of Glendale. I was also at Camp Pendleton for Marine Combat Training (MCT) and Ft. Lee, Virginia (Alpha Company) for my MOS (Military Occupational Specialty) school.

7. What do you feel you learned from your military experience?

Although I don't have lots of "military experience" my training has completely changed me. I no longer complain about the little things in life. I also learned how to shoot a lot of cool guns.

8. Do you have a memory or story from your time in the service that you like to share?

I don't really have any experience outside of Training, nothing interesting happens in training.

Military Update: Chris Tounget has deployed in support of Operation Enduring Freedom for the next 18 months

T.E.A.M. SHOP

FOR SALE:

Auto Ordinance Thompson Semiautomatic Tommy Gun model 1927 A-1

This is your chance to own the world famous Tommy gun, the gun made famous by the gangsters of the Al Capone Era and Bonnie And Clyde. It was the era of the start of the FBI, Elliot Ness and the "Untouchables". Not too much later, the Tommy gun was issued to our Marines fighting in the Pacific and the Army fighting in Europe to defeat the Axis powers in World War II. This is an amazing gun, harder to find, and at the same time so much fun to shoot. Even though it is a 45 caliber, it has virtually no recoil, and feels like you are firing marshmallows. It comes with one stick magazine, like issued to our G.I.'s in WWII, but the gangster days drums (50 and 100 round magazines) are still available to buy. This gun was used by the US military until 1971, and is still used by many militaries though out the world. Be aware this is a fairly heavy gun ( almost 13 lbs., and about another 6 lbs. for a full 100 round magazine!)

This gun comes NIB, with a carrying case (which does have a minor blemish) , sling, manual and registration card.

Price $1200 plus sales tax, and layaway is available.

Smith and Wesson Lady Smith Revolver Model 65-5 357 Magnum

This 3 inch barrel, slim grip and fixed sight revolver is a great investment and extremely reliable gun. 6 shot capacity, it is a high stopping power, yet low profile protector, suitable for anyone. Don't let the name Lady Smith fool you - This is enough gun for both men and women. Gently used, this gun is a steal at $550, (most on line prices are around $700), and comes with a soft sided carrying case. This is a private sale.

Please contact shop@teamsecurity.net if you are interested in either gun.

Looking for uniform pants, belts, shoes, etc? Here are some companies you can try:

FX Tactical (next to Shooter's World): They usually have good deals and quite a few clearance racks; they are extremely friendly and knowledgeable and very willing to share their knowledge with the customer.

Camelback Uniform: They are pricey but their pants and shorts are reasonable

Galls: They are pricey but they do have the occasional awesome deal

Universal Police Supply: The shop is located locally in Tempe.

Ace Uniforms: They are good but they usually are pretty busy and cater to more of the big city departments. The plus side is they can usually do a lot of tailoring on site in less than an hour. They have a huge inventory

Dave's Uniforms in Avondale: he's a medically retired cop and he is honest and usually has more inventory than the bigger shops. He takes a lot of pride in his work and he will only sell what you need, so it's harder to blow a paycheck there. He usually is lower priced too because he runs it out of his house and therefore isn't trying to make up expensive retail rent with his pricing.

LA Police Gear currently has these uniform pants on sale for $20 if you are looking for uniform pants. They always have great deals, especially if you sign up with your email.

Chief Supply: They are pricey but good for comparison and the occasional deal.

Blackhawk: They have versatile equipment and a lot of interchangeable equipment.

Ebay: Trent Loveless is willing to do eBay shopping for you, to get duty belts and stuff like that. He usually charges 5-10 bucks above the final auction price and just stays in the price range of whatever you want or can afford to spend, if you are looking for belts and things like that.
